NORTHWEST-SHOALS COMMUNITY COLLEGE COMMITTEES

The mission of Northwest-Shoals Community College is furthered through the work of standing, search, ad hoc, and advisory committees. Faculty, staff, and students of Northwest-Shoals Community College participate in College governance through the committees on which they are appointed to serve. Committee members are encouraged to engage in full discussion of college operations under the committee's purview and to make appropriate recommendations about college policies and procedures. College committees, however, serve in a purely advisory capacity to College administrative area heads, Deans, Vice Presidents, and/or the President. Committee recommendations are subject to review and approval by the appropriate area head, Deans, Vice Presidents, President, and/or the President's Cabinet.

Committee appointments are nominated by Division Chairpersons, Deans, Vice Presidents and/or the President and approved by the President's Cabinet. Most committees have faculty, support staff and student members. During the academic year most committees will hold at least one regularly scheduled meeting each term with additional meetings as called by the chairperson. The Committee recorder will keep minutes of the actions of the committee and email copies to each committee member. All committee minutes will be placed on the college intranet.

College committees will serve for a period of one year. Committees are reviewed annually or more frequently as directed by the President. Requests for changes are solicited in the spring semester of each year. Changes are reviewed during summer term and approved in July. New committee rosters will be announced during the Fall In-Service meeting each year.

Program Advisory Committees are under the direction of the Vice President of Instruction Office. Search Committees are under the direction of the President. Ad Hoc Committees are established for a limited time and for a specific purpose. Minutes of all meetings held by Program Advisory Committees and Ad Hoc Committees will be placed on the college intranet.
